

Call for Papers

The German Prevention Congress (DPT) is the world's largest annual congress for crime prevention and related areas. The 31st DPT will take place on April 13-14, 2026, in Hannover, Germany.

We invite people from over the world working in all areas of crime prevention, especially from youth welfare, schools, churches, organizations and associations, administration, prevention committees, local authorities, police, politics, media, science, economy, health system and judiciary.

"AI in prevention" is this year's main topic.

The conference program offers a broad and diverse range of presentations, plenary sessions, workshops, and a large trade exhibition covering all topics from the entire spectrum of prevention work.

Apply now to actively participate in the various contribution formats and the congress exhibition!
